Retirement Account

keyfacts®

The Financial Conduct Authority is a financial services regulator. It requires us, Investment Funds Direct Limited, to give you this important information to help you to decide whether our Retirement Account is right for you. You should read this document carefully so that you understand what you are buying, and then keep it safe for future reference.

1 ABOUT THE ROYAL LONDON RETIREMENT ACCOUNT

Its aims

- to allow flexible access to pension savings that you have built up in a Royal London Group personal or stakeholder pension scheme, after transfer to the Retirement Account;
- to allow you to make flexible cash withdrawals from your Retirement Account as an alternative to buying a guaranteed retirement income (annuity);
- to allow you to take a Tax Free Lump Sum, normally up to 25% of the pension savings you transfer to the Retirement Account;
- to allow you to keep your pension savings invested to benefit from any potential growth;
- to give you flexibility to buy an annuity or other retirement income product at a later date;
- to allow for the value of your Retirement Account to be passed to your Beneficiaries when you die; and
- to offer a continued tax efficient investment through a pension scheme.

Your commitment

- to transfer a Royal London Group pension with a minimum value of £5,000 into the Retirement Account;
- to take an immediate pension in the form of Flexi-Access Drawdown;
- to inform us if you are no longer a United Kingdom resident or you are or become a United States Person;
- to tell us if you no longer have a United Kingdom bank account; and
- to read the Key Investor Information Document for the Royal London Cautious Managed Fund, which explains the features of the investment fund available for your Retirement Account.

Risks

Investment risks

- what you get back depends on the performance of the Royal London Cautious Managed Fund. The performance of the fund is not guaranteed. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results;
- the value of your Retirement Account can fall as well as rise and you may not get back the amount you originally invested;
- you are not certain to make a profit. You may make a loss and you may not get back the amount you transfer to the Retirement Account; and
- your pension is invested into one investment fund and there are no alternative investment fund options, including with different risk profiles

Capital & Longevity Risks

- the value of your Retirement Account will be reduced by the effect of the charges;
- withdrawing income from your Retirement Account can reduce capital growth especially where performance is poor and level of income withdrawn is high;
- the higher the level of income, the less you will have available to provide for your dependants, or to buy an annuity in the future if your investment returns are low;
- annuity rates (i.e. the amount of guaranteed income you can buy using your pension savings) change over time. If rates are lower when you choose to buy an annuity, you may receive less income than if you chose to buy an annuity now;
- if you have a guaranteed annuity rate from your existing Royal London Group pension, you will lose this guaranteed rate if you transfer your pension to the Retirement Account;
- inflation (the rising cost of goods and services) will affect the future buying power of your Retirement Account. If the value of your Retirement Account grows by less than the rate of inflation, it will have less buying power in the future;
- the charges may increase in accordance with the Terms and Conditions; and
- the income you take from your Retirement Account will not be guaranteed. You need to consider the risk of your pension savings in your Retirement Account running out later in life, particularly if you take large lump sums, and how you would live on any other sources of income you may have.

Tax risks

- the amount of income you take from your Retirement Account could affect any state benefits that you are entitled to. If the Department for Work and Pensions or your local council judge you to have deliberately spent or given away your pension savings to receive or increase benefits they may re-assess you eligibility and treat you as still having this money;
- Income you take from your Retirement Account is taxed at your marginal rate and may affect the level of tax you pay on any other taxable earnings you receive in the same tax year. These may include earnings such as State pension payments, benefits, salary, annuity or investment income; and
- tax rules may change in the future. How tax affects you depends upon your individual circumstances.

2 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

What is the Retirement Account?

The Retirement Account is a personal pension, which allows you to take a Tax Free Lump Sum and make taxable withdrawals.

The Retirement Account is provided under a trust based registered pension Scheme. It is provided and administered by Investment Funds Direct Limited (IFDL) and distributed by Royal London Marketing Limited (Royal London).

Who can have a Retirement Account?

Anyone who:

- is age 55 or over, at the time of applying;
- is a United Kingdom resident;
- has a United Kingdom bank account;
- has a Royal London Group personal pension or stakeholder pension, from which no benefits have been taken;
- wishes to transfer at least £5,000 from their existing pension(s);
- is not a United States Person; and,
- agrees to move their pension fund to Flexi-Access Drawdown.

What resources are available to help me decide if this product is right for me?

This Key Features document will give you information on the main features, benefits and risks of the Retirement Account and the fund that you are invested in. It is your responsibility to ensure that the Retirement Account meets your needs. If you want further information about the Retirement Account and the investment fund, please contact us. Although we will be happy to answer your questions, we can't give you financial advice.

If you have any doubt as to whether the Retirement Account meets your needs, you should contact a financial adviser (who may charge for their services). If you do not have a financial adviser, you can get details of local financial advisers by visiting unbiased.co.uk.

Can I transfer my other pensions into the Retirement Account?

No, you cannot transfer any of your other pensions into the Retirement Account.

Previously you could only transfer in an eligible Royal London Group pension scheme, but the Retirement Account is now closed to new business.

Can I make payments into my Retirement Account?

No, you cannot make payments in. The Retirement Account previously only accepted pension transfers from an existing Royal London Group pension.

What can I invest my Retirement Account in?

Your Retirement Account must be invested in the Royal London Cautious Managed Fund. You can find out more information about the fund from the Key Investor Information Document.

What will happen if any income is earned on my investment?

Any income earned by the Royal London Cautious Managed Fund will automatically be reinvested by the Fund Manager.

How can I find out the value of my Retirement Account?

We will send you:

- a statement four times a year which will tell you what your Retirement Account is worth;
- an annual statement showing any withdrawals you have received from your Retirement Account, alongside an illustration which will provide you with an indication of the annuity income you could buy using the value of your Retirement Account at that time; and
- a contract note, when you change your holding showing how much has been purchased or sold in the Royal London Cautious Managed Fund.

You can also find out the current value of your Retirement Account by contacting us using the details provided on the front of this document.

Can I make contributions into other pension schemes?

You can pay into other pension schemes that you hold and continue to build up benefits in a company pension (for example a defined benefit pension). Once you make a taxable withdrawal from your Retirement Account, the 'Money Purchase Annual Allowance' rules will apply to you.

These rules mean that if you, your employer or anyone else makes contributions to your other money purchase or similar pension schemes (for example, a personal pension or a stakeholder pension) of more than £10,000 in a tax year, then you may become subject to a tax charge by HMRC. You should contact the administrators of your other pension schemes to determine whether or not any tax charges may apply.

What charges do I have to pay?

The following table sets out the charges that apply to your Retirement Account:

Type of Charge	Amount of Charge
Product Administration Charge applied by us	Annual charge of 0.35% of the value of your Retirement Account , taken monthly in arrears (i.e. 1/12th of 0.35% per month).
Fund Management Fee applied by Royal London Asset Management Limited (the 'Fund Manager')	Annual charge of 0.70% of the value of the fund, taken daily (i.e. 1/365th of 0.70% per day).

(Figures correct as at 31/10/2023)

The Product Administration Charge is calculated on the total value of your Retirement Account (cash and fund) and is applied by us for setting up and providing ongoing administration.

The Fund Management Fee is calculated on the total value of your Retirement Account (cash and fund) and is applied for the ongoing management of the assets and structure of the Royal London Cautious Managed Fund and may vary from time to time. The figures quoted are correct at 31/10/2023. It also covers any:

- dealing costs;
- broker fees, and
- one off charges which may be incurred from time to time.

We are not able to notify you in advance of changes to the Fund Management Fee, but we can provide you with an up to date Fund Management Fee if you contact us using the options shown on the second page.

Part of the Fund Management Fee will be paid to Royal London for branding, marketing and distributing your Retirement Account.

If there isn't enough cash in your Retirement Account to pay the Product Administration Charge we will deduct a further amount from your fund to bring the balance of the cash holding back to 0.5% of the value of your Retirement Account.

This will be held in this client bank account for the purpose of covering the ongoing Product Administration Charge payable by you.

The personalised illustration provided to you will show the effect that these charges will have on the value of your Retirement Account.

How do I make withdrawals from my Retirement Account?

You can withdraw your money by contacting us and filling out the withdrawal request form.

Withdrawals will be paid to you via electronic transfer into your United Kingdom bank account. We will send you a written confirmation once each payment has been made.

How often can I make a withdrawal from my Retirement Account?

You can do this up to once per month. The minimum amount for each withdrawal is £500.

What will I get back?

You will be entitled to withdraw amounts from your Retirement Account up to the value of your holding in the Royal London Cautious Managed Fund (less any charges or taxes as are payable).

The value of your Retirement Account can go down as well as up, therefore the amount that you get back is not guaranteed. The amount that you will receive depends on the following factors:

- how much you invest;
- the performance of the investment fund;
- the effect of the charges; and
- any withdrawals you make.

How does tax affect my Retirement Account?

Once you have taken your Tax Free Lump Sum, (normally up to 25% of the pension savings you transfer to the Retirement Account), all further withdrawals will be taxed at your marginal rate of tax. We will deduct the amount of tax due before we pass on the withdrawal to you.

The death benefits provided from the Retirement Account are normally paid free of inheritance tax. Tax charges may be payable if you die aged 75 or over. The amount of tax payable will depend upon how your Beneficiaries choose to take the death benefits. Further detail is set out in 'What happens if I die?' below.

What happens if I die?

Following your death, any value remaining in your Retirement Account is used to pay death benefits. We decide which of your Beneficiaries are to receive death benefits, taking into account your wishes, and the types of death benefits to be paid. Benefits can be paid from your Retirement Account as either lump sums or pension income withdrawals.

The age you die at determines the tax treatment of the death benefits from your Retirement Account.

(a) If you die before age 75

The value of your Retirement Account payable to the Beneficiaries will, in most cases, be paid tax free.

(b) If you die age 75 or over

The value of your Retirement Account payable to the Beneficiaries will be taxed as follows:

- if the payment made is classified as a lump sum under tax legislation, tax will be charged on the payment at 45%, if paid to a company or trust, or at the Beneficiaries' marginal tax rate, if paid to individuals; and
- if payment is made as pension income (including withdrawal of the whole value as one pension income payment), tax will be charged at the Beneficiaries' marginal rate of tax.

We have a discretion as to the form of benefits actually paid. The Beneficiaries we choose can let us know which of the options they would prefer, including a combination of a lump sum pay-out and pension income. We will normally act in accordance with their wishes.

The tax rates quoted are based on our current understanding of United Kingdom legislation and may change in the future.

Can I still buy an annuity?

Yes, you can buy an annuity at any time using the value of your Retirement Account. You can use the open market to take advantage of the best rates available from the different annuity providers and insurance companies.

Can I cancel my Retirement Account?

You could only cancel your Retirement Account within the first 30 days of opening it. As the Retirement Account is now closed, cancellation is no longer possible.

Instead you can transfer your account to another pension scheme.

Can I transfer to another pension scheme?

Yes, you are able to transfer the value of your Retirement Account to another United Kingdom registered pension scheme or a registered pension scheme or a Recognised Overseas Pension Scheme ('ROPS'). The transfer will only be allowed if permitted by HMRC, and the receiving scheme is willing to accept the transfer.

You are only able to make a transfer in cash from the Retirement Account.

You can only make full transfers of your Retirement Account to another pension provider. We do not offer partial transfers.

We will not apply a charge for making a transfer, however you will need to check with the receiving pension provider whether they will make a charge for accepting your transfer.

By making a full transfer out (or withdrawing the total value of your Retirement Account), we will close your Retirement Account. We will write to confirm that we are doing this.
